

EDUCATIONAL ARC

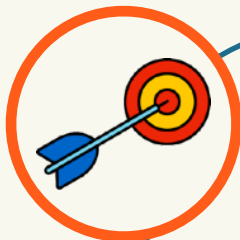

We begin with an introduction to the Values in Action approach and start identifying ways in which this approach can both support and advance our work as educators.

Our learning continues by exploring themes of values and competing desires, and how they shape how we navigate contemporary issues.

Our journey advances by digging into the tenets of experiential education and how each component of a Values In Action resource contributes to learning, reflection and new insights.

We close with practice and attention to the practical application of our learnings - in the course itself and in your setting.
